

Rules for cubicle users

- The cubicles are intended exclusively for enrolled library members
- In order to get the key, students must provide their student identity card or personal identification document, which are kept until the student returns the cubicle key
- Users must return the borrowed key to the lending desk on the same day before the library closes
- Users must inform the employee at the lending desk if they leave library premises for more than one hour without previously returning the key
- So as to ensure user safety, cubicle doors must be kept closed at all times
- Users must lock the used cubicle prior to returning the key

Library staff will not be held responsible for the theft of personal belongings from cubicles or users' potential injuries. If the user fails to comply with these rules, they shall be banned from using the cubicles.
